Purpose and Scope

This fictional internal document describes high-level compensation administration and benefits governance at RGD Tech. It contains internal workforce information.

Topic	Policy / Information
Compensation confidentiality	Individual employee compensation information is confidential and must not be disclosed outside authorized administrative workflows.
Role-based administration	Compensation changes are processed through authorized HR/administrative workflows.
Benefits	Eligibility and enrollment are maintained through internal employee processes.

Administrative Controls

Administrators must use the minimum information necessary when handling employee compensation matters.

Topic	Policy / Information
Access	Only authorized administrative personnel may access detailed compensation records.
Changes	Compensation changes require appropriate approval and an auditable record.
Requests	Customer-support requests must never be answered using confidential employee compensation information.

RAG Security Classification

This document is classified as admin and is included to test whether a support-role query can be prevented from retrieving confidential workforce information.

The RAG application should treat this document as inaccessible to the support role even when a query is semantically similar to its content.
